HOUSE COMMITTEE WILL OVERHAUL ALL THE NAVY YARDS

Representative Rixey Reports a Duplication of Shops and Officers, Due to Department Bureau System.

ONE NEW ENGLAND YARD
LIKELY TO BE ABOLISHED

Committee on Naval Affairs Will Begin "Non-Partisan Campaign" to Change Present Methods at Coming Session of Congress.

Representative John F. Rixey, of Virginia, a member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, passed through Washington yesterday on his way home from the tour of inspection with the other members of the Naval Committee.
In discussing the trip and the condition of the navy yards visited, Mr. Rixey said:

"The chief result of our observations is that the committee, or rather those members that were on the tour of inspection, came unanimously to the conclusion that the organization and management of the navy yards needs a thorough overhauling.

"The bureau system has resulted in the duplication of buildings and a duplication of officers at nearly all the yards.
Officers and Yards Duplicated.

"For instance, in some of the yards there are three power plants, three blacksmith shops, three foundry plants, etc., where there is necessity for only one at each yard. Often there are more officers than are needed.

"Another thing that struck us is the uselessness of having a yard at Boston and another at Portsmouth, N. H., fifty miles away. It is more than probable that the committee will recommend that one of these yards be abolished.

A Non-Partisan Campaign.

"We intend to inaugurate a non-partisan campaign at the coming session of Congress and make a strong effort to overhaul the whole system of management of the yards as it exists at present, for we believe we can save the Government a great deal of money by a change in the present methods."

REPEAL OF WAR TAXES COST $41,127,697

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Cites Figures for Past Year.

John W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has prepared a preliminary report of his office for the fiscal year ended June 30, in which he says that the receipts from all sources aggregated $230,740,382.57, for the collection of which the Government expended approximately $4,697,000. The decrease in collections, as compared with the previous year, accounted for by the repeal of the war revenue taxes, amounting to $41,127,697.68.

The total receipts from the principal objects of taxation were as follows: Spirits, $131,553,472.39; tobacco, $43, 514,810.24; fermented liquors, $47,547, 856.08; oleomargarine, $785,783.31.

Tabulated by States, Illinois led, with $50,562,455.25; Indiana second, with $28, 182,910.08; New York third, with $26, 749,648.18; Kentucky fourth, with $21, 115,626.21, and Ohio fifth, with $20,975, 332.19.

EUROPEAN SQUADRON TO REMAIN AT LISBON

King's Entertainment Delayed on Account of Pope's Death.

On account of the death of Pope Leo the European squadron of the United States Navy will remain at Lisbon, Portugal, for at least a week longer than was originally planned, and the exact date of its departure has not been determined.

The King of Portugal announced an entertainment for the American officers which has been deferred on account of the death of the Pope, and it is not known just when the mourning for the Pontiff will come to an end. The vessels which are at Lisbon are the Brooklyn, Chicago, San Francisco, and Michigan.

MILWAUKEE AGAIN WANTS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 25.—The next Democratic national convention will be held in this city if the efforts of Mayor Rose are of any avail. He has already commenced a vigorous campaign with the members of the Democratic national committee who supported Milwaukee last time, when Kansas won the prize, and has, he says, been able to get additional pledges from some members who voted for Kansas last time.

KING EDWARD GIVES MONEY TO THE POOR

Leaves Dublin For North of Ireland.

HEARTY WELCOME TO ERIN

Enthusiasm Has Eclipsed Fondest Hopes of the English Government.
May Buy Residence.

DUBLIN, July 25.—King Edward, before leaving for the north of Ireland this morning, gave £1,000 to the poor of Dublin. The King, in his farwell address to the people of Dublin, said:
"May the inhabitants of this illustrious city look forward under God's providence to blessings commensurate with their keenness of intellect and the warmness of their hearts."

Enthusiastically Received.

Much was expected of the visit of King Edward and Queen Alexandra to Ireland, and it was thought that the people of Erin would give the royal couple a hearty welcome, but the enthusiasm which has been evinced by all classes has far more than exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the government.

Up to the present there has not been a single discord in the harmonious welcome, and not a disagreeable incident.
The levees have been unqualified success, vying with those held in London both as regards the magnificence of the affairs, and the costumes worn by the women attending. The great surprise, however, has been the affection for the King and Queen displayed by the lower classes. It was a common occurrence as the King's carriage drove through the streets of Dublin for men and women to kneel in loyal homage and call for blessings upon the King and his consort.

May Purchase Residence.

In connection with the King's visit the "Irish Times" says that it is authoritatively reported that the King is contemplating the purchase of Rockingham house, Boyle county, Roscommon, for a royal residence. Boyle is a small town, three miles from Rockingham house. The house is a large one, without special architectural features except its size, on account of which, however, it forms a conspicuous object and commands a wide view of one of the most extensive and beautiful counties of Ireland.

The mansion was recently redecorated in preparation for the coming of the Earl and Countess of Dudley, who have taken the place for their country residence. It is in consequence of the King's extravagant praise of the beauties of the place that King Edward's attention has been attracted to it.

SECRET SERVICE MEN AT OYSTER BAY IN ECSTASY OF NERVOUS EXCITEMENT

Alarmed by Rumors That Attempt Would Be Made On Life of President—All Entrances Are Strictly Guarded—Geneva Conference Discussed.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 25.—The squad of Secret Service men guarding the President and his home at Sagamore Hill were thrown into a state of nervous excitement this afternoon when informed by wire from New York that an attempt was to be made upon the life of the Chief Magistrate.

The fact that the New York alarm carried no details corroborating the story of intended assassination did not make the anxiety any the less, and all through the afternoon and tonight they watched the entrances of the village with painful vigilance.

Every incoming farmer with his load of produce, every oyster man, floating in with the tide, every passenger that stepped off the Long Island trains was immediately spotted, and if he were not known, was made to give an account of himself. The panic resulted in nothing beyond annoyance to the detectives and their suspects, for no bombs were hurled at the big Queen Anne house on the knoll, and no villainous strangers

TEXAS TO SUPPORT REGULAR NOMINEE

Senator Bailey Says There Is Nothing New in State Politics.

Senator Joseph Bailey, of Texas, was in Washington yesterday attending to business before the departments. He was at the Riggs House, but did not re-sister.

When asked about the political situation in Texas, he said there was practically nothing new. The State would support the nominee, who must be a man who can reunite the party.

The Senator laughingly said he knew nothing about the efforts of his friends to make him the next chairman of the Democratic national committee.

BOGUS LORD'S WIFE OBTAINS A DECREE

KANSAS CITY, July 25.—Mrs. Wilhelmina Grace Barrington has been granted a divorce from "Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington, who is now under indictment at St. Louis, charged with murder.

SECRETARY HAY'S SMILE JUSTIFIED

Holds Russia's Pledge to Open Manchurian Ports.

INFORMATION WAS WITHHELD

State Department Listened to Peking Dispatches With Satisfied Composure.

The satisfied composure with which State Department officials ridicule reports from Peking that China will not open ports in Manchuria is well founded.
The fact has just developed that Russia gave a written pledge to the United States to open certain Manchurian ports.
This formal pledge is carefully filed away in the archives of the State Department. The written assurance is positive and comprehensive.

Russia gave this solemn pledge because of a strong desire to placate the United States and prevent an alliance with Japan in the event of war between that country and Russia. All the efforts of Russian diplomacy have been exerted to so adjust matters with this Government that no assistance shall be given Japan when the Oriental crisis is reached.

Aid for Japan.

The support of Great Britain is to be given Japan only in case more than one power engages her in war at the same time. If the United States can be placed in a neutral position, Great Britain cannot join forces with Japan should war break out. This is the Russian view.

At the same time it can be said there has never been the slightest possibility that the United States would actively support Japan. The attitude of this Government would be one of absolute neutrality.

Russian foreign office leaders did not understand this, and desired to take no chances. Hence the United States was placated by written assurances that Manchurian ports will be opened.

CASSIUS M. CLAY'S BODY BURIED IN RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Ky., July 25.—The funeral of Gen. Cassius M. Clay took place here this afternoon. The body left Whitehall at 10 o'clock this morning and was met on the outskirts of the town by a long procession of friends and relatives in carriages.

Funeral services were held in the Baptist Church. The burial followed in Richmond Cemetery, the body being interred beside the remains of General Clay's mother, according to the provisions of his will.

MANEUVERS ENGAGE FORTY-FOUR VESSELS

Twenty of These Are Already On the Scene of Action.

Forty-four vessels are to take part in the search problem and combined maneuvers off the coast of Maine. Twenty of these have already reached Frenchman's Bay and are preparing for the maneuvers. The six battleships which are to participate—the Massachusetts, Illinois, Indiana, Texas, Kearsarge and Alabama—are among those on the scene of action.

The protected cruiser Olympia and the unprotected cruisers Yankee, Panther and Hartford; the destroyers, Decatur, Barry, Chauncey, Dale and Rail-bridge; the gunboat Vixen, the colliers Caesar and Sterling, the tugs Iwana and Nezhacon, and the sailing ship Alliance are also reported to be at Frenchman's Bay.

Other vessels which are to join the fleet are the protected cruiser Baltimore, the unprotected cruiser Prairie, the gunboats Mayflower, Dolphin, Chesapeake, Newport, Scorpion, Topeka and Peoria, the colliers Hannibal, Lebanon, Marcellus, Leonidas and Brutus, the Jesuscyers Truxton, Worden, Whipple, Lawrence and Stewart, the tugs Nona and Potomac, and the sailing vessel Monongahela.

MISS DASKAM MARRIED.

STAMFORD, Conn., July 25.—Josephine Daskam, the well-known authoress,

Bacon, a prominent lawyer of New York city.

POPE'S BODY INTERRED IN ST. PETER'S CHAPEL

Last Burial Takes Place a Year From Date.

FINAL ABSOLUTION GIVEN

Pontifical Ornaments Placed Beside Leo's Remains in Casket—Monks Chant "Miserere."

ROME, July 25.—The body of Pope Leo XIII was interred tonight in its temporary resting place in the niche over the door to the left of the Chapel of the Sacrament in St. Peter's.

The ceremony began at 7 o'clock (Rome time), the cardinals and Vatican prelates conducting the services. It was first intended to send out only 700 invitations, but at the last moment they were increased to 4,000.

The body was raised on a bier and carried upon the shoulders of the men who had so often borne the Pontiff in his lifetime, and was carried into the Chapel of St. Peter's, the remains not being placed in the coffin until the chapel was reached.

The procession was led by the monks of St. Peter's, all chanting the "Miserere," and passed before the chapel of St.
Peter's, finally ending at the choir chapel. There the chant was changed to "In Paradisum," drops of holy water were sprinkled over the coffin and the final absolution was pronounced.

In the coffin was placed the Pontifical ornaments, including all the medals the Pope had received in the course of his reign, and a scroll telling of the principal acts of his pontificate. The face and hands were then reverently covered with a thin white veil, the coffin was placed in another one of lead, and that in turn was placed in one of elmwood, covered with scarlet brocade. Both were hermetically sealed and raised to the niche over the door during the recitation of the final benediction.

The body will remain in this niche for one year, when it will be transferred to its final resting place in the church of St. John Lateran.

POLICE RECAPTURE ESCAPED LUNATIC

Absent Man Not Missed at St. Elizabeth's When Caught.

Sergeant Anderson, of the Anacostia substation, last night arrested Daniel O'Keefe, thirty-five years old, as a fugitive from St. Elizabeth's Insane Asylum. O'Keefe is an ex-soldier, who was brought back from the Philippines, insane. He is harmless, and is frequently paroled.

Last night he escaped from the asylum without the knowledge of the authorities. He was walking through Anacostia, inquiring the way to the city, when Sergeant Anderson met him.

Something in the appearance of the man caused him to think he was insane. He arrested him, and then communicated with the asylum. Search revealed O'Keefe's absence, and he was sent for.

Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent has just begun a thorough examination of all the prisons, asylums, and charitable institutions in the United States to determine accurately the number of aliens who have become criminals or public charges. In each instance the time of arrival in this country will be noted, with other data of a statistical nature.

Commissioner Sargent is satisfied that a large number of aliens, within a comparatively brief period after their arrival, are either confined as criminals or supported by public charity. The figures obtained by the inquiries will be embodied in a comprehensive report to Congress, which will be made the basis for future restrictive legislation. There will also be reports submitted from agents of the immigration service abroad and at the seaport cities, all indicating the necessity for more drastic laws to prevent the influx of undesirable foreigners.

$4 and $1 per hundred for towels. Nothing could be ascertained, however, as to the reason for the apparent monopoly enjoyed by the Tolman company.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 25.—Most of diers, however, are still there.

The town is quiet after the adjournment of the grand jury without finding indictments for the James Cockrill assassination. Foreman Bailey says indictments were prevented through fear of the Hargis brothers. The whole af-WORCESTER, July 24.—Nearly forty of the Emmet Guards of Worcester, returning from annual camp duty at South afternoon, were injured in a rear-end collision at Northboro. It is not thought any of the injuries will be fatal. Most of them are slight.

Will Lose $1,500,000 By

DENTIST COMMITS SUICIDE

Fortune Swept Away in Wall Street.
Russell Sage Has Attack of Vertigo.

NEW YORK, July 25.—No statement of the assets or liabilities of Talbot J.
Taylor & Co., or Stow & Co., was available up to 2 o'clock this afternoon. The liabilities of Taylor & Co. will run into the millions, probably six or seven.

Accountants are hard at work on the books of both firms, but it is not thought that statements can be ready before Monday. W. L. Stow told his customers today that he was sure he would be able to resume business shortly, paying dollar for dollar.

Keene Down Town.

James R. Keene was at the office of Taylor & Co. before 10 o'clock, in consultation with his son-in-law, Talbot J.
Taylor. Mr. Keene admitted that he will lose $1,500,000 by the failure, but from talks with him it did not seem that he cared to advance additional money to pull the firm out of the financial mire.

Caught in the crash in Wall Street which had swept everything away, and facing the fact that instead of the handsome fortune he had a few weeks ago, he was now practically penniless, Dr.
Louis Shaw, a dentist, of 182 Remsen Street, Brooklyn, today shot and instantly killed himself. He had speculated heavily and his losses will exceed $150,- 000.

Sage Has Vertigo.

Russell Sage, who has been in poor health for some months, was seized with an attack of vertigo in his office this morning, and was obliged to call for assistance.

When he recovered he refused the request of his friends that he go home and rest. He said he deemed it his duty, in the face of the "rich man's panic," to remain at his business.

The following letter was received by the District Commissioners Tuesday, July 21:

"Will you please inform us why it is that the washing of towels for the Fire Department and the washing for the Police Department, are not let out by contract? Why should one person enjoy a monopoly of this work, as has been for years? The District is paying more out for its work than any private firm or corporation for like work. If this work is let out by contract, like all the other Government work, you will see how this particular work has been 'worked.' Very respectfully, "HARVARD LAUNDRY CO.,
"T. Hill Marshall, Manager."

Manager Marshall's Statement.

In explanation of the foregoing letter Mr. Marshall made the following statement last night:

"A monopoly has existed for a number of years in the towel and laundry work of the police and fire departments.
The work has never been open for bids and competition has not been allowed.
The Tolman Laundry has had the inside track and obtains a much larger price for its work than would be asked by other laundries.

"I understand that that company gets $4 per hundred for towels in small quantities, and never less than $1 per hundred in large quantities. If that work were awarded in open competition, it would be done for less than 50 cents.

"This same laundry, for other work of the same class, charges hotels and restaurants 50 cents per hundred. The District government is losing at least 100 per cent on this work, and as it aggregates something like $3,000 per year, the excess is considerable.

Procured Share by Threats.

"I have good authority for the statement that some time ago the Star laundry learned of this monopoly and went to the Tolman management with the proposition that if the work was not divided, an exposure would be made of the whole crooked business. At any rate the Star laundry was given a goodly portion of the District work, and the exposure was never made.

"I might add that a short time ago, in open competition, the Gem Laundry was awarded the same class of work for the Postoffice Department for 25 1/2 cents per 100. The Government is not only being defrauded, but the laundries of the city are being shut out of competition by favoritism. The matter will stand investigating."

Not Public's Concern.

The manager of the Tolman Laundry was faced with this statement, but told the reporter for The Times that the company's business was not any affair of the public.

The president of the company, James P. Tolman, was more communicative, and said that he did some work for the District, and that the rates charged were $4 and $1 per hundred for towels. Nothing could be ascertained, however, as
enjoyed by the Tolman company.

The manager of the Gem Laundry was next interviewed, and immediately admitted having been awarded a contract for the same class of work for 25 1/2 cents per hundred. He explained that this figure could not be taken as a basis for figuring, because he was losing money on the contract.

Wanted the Contract.

"I bid that figure," he said, "because I wanted the contract. It costs about 25 cents to do the work, so you see I am not getting rich. I have, however, a contract for more of the same class of work, for which I get 87 1/2 cents per hundred. This was obtained in competitive bidding, and I consider that it is an easy money-making figure.

"I have often wondered how the Police and Fire Department work was awarded, and have never been given an opportunity to bid on the work. If it is done for $1 per hundred now, I know a half dozen laundries which will do it for less.
I would be glad to get the job at 80 cents per hundred."

The manager of the Star Laundry could not be seen last evening, in regard to the alleged "divvy" on the District work.
